She asked to take very good care of own health first with good diet, healthy habits, daily exercise & yoga to keep immunity strong as we doctors are Health idols for our patients. Then she asked students to have gratitude for parents, as our good work for society will make them feel proud & that will be a small token of thanks to them. Last but not the least she explained about to salute to your work. A dream does not become to reality through magic, it requires determination and hard work, doing best at this moment puts you in best place for the next moment. Programme ended with vote of thanks.
